

oh&s Policy

Edrill environmental is a Western Australian company which provides drilling, sampling and environmental services across the state. It has a strong commitment to staff safety and a firm belief that its staff are the company's greatest asset.

Edrill is committed to an alcohol and drug free work environment which includes a non smoking policy.

Edrill recognises that its work environment is often in remote and/or difficult environments, and as such is responsible to its staff to provide all available resources and relevant safety equipment to ensure work operations are conducted without compromise to workplace safety.

It is edrill policy to recognize each workplace as unique and to conduct a site specific risk assessment for each job undertaken.

Edrill requires its employees and subcontractors to adopt these policies and to accept their responsibility to act in a safe manner in the workplace.

Wayne Hick

Managing Director

Edrill environmental

August 2007